

BIG CHECK. BIG COVERAGE. BIG RELIEF. POWERED LOCALLY.

Like many farmers, Blaine Kummer is constantly busy in the fields. Kummer, along with his father, Paul, farm corn, soybeans and sugar beets in Colfax, N.D. This past spring, as they were preparing for planting, they ran into an issue with the transmission of their John Deere 8310RT tractor.

“We thought it was maybe a simple recalibration issue or something along those lines. John Deere came out to look at it and that was not the case. We took it in to John Deere to dig deeper into it and then they concluded that the transmission had failed and needed to be repaired.”

No producer wants to face downtime, especially so close to planting. Thankfully, Kummer had enrolled his tractors and combines in the Cenex Total Protection Plan®. This was the first time they had to submit a claim, and Kummer was happy with the experience.

“The process was very easy, very seamless,” Kummer said. “Basically, Cenex® told us to get the equipment fixed as needed, and then we sent them the work order and repairs that had been done. They reviewed it and then sent a check directly to us.”

With the simple, streamlined process provided by the Cenex Total Protection Plan®, Kummer was able to avoid downtime and get in the fields in time for planting. Kummer’s local Cenex® dealership, Dakota Plains Ag in Kindred, N.D., was able to help facilitate the claims process.

“They have excellent service. We have a good relationship with them for buying our bulk fuels, oil and propane,” Kummer said.

“We like the fact that Cenex® fuels and lubricants are high quality, and we really appreciate all the good service we get from Cenex®. This situation just furthered that belief for us.”
